Mystical Nepal

Nepal has been honored by UNESCO as a country with the most recognized World Heritage Sites in such a small area. Besides this, it is listed as one of the top travel destinations by Lonely Planet and National Geographic Adventure. Nepal is a mystical country in the Himalayas which not only has abundant natural beauty including the highest mountain in the world, but it also holds a cultural heritage that goes back to centuries. Other treasures include tropical jungles with exotic bio-diversities and wildlife, unending view of green terraced ridges, white water rafting in the Himalayan Rivers and also a perfect ambience to learn Buddhism. In Nepal enchantment is everywhere, be it on the shoulders of high mountains, on terraced ridges that resemble stairways to the sky, in the bustle of cities, on calm or rushing rivers, or in the forests full of wildlife, flowers and bird song. We have something for everybody - a tourist or a trekker, a river runner or a wildlife enthusiast, a poet or an artist, a writer or a scholar or anyone in search of his/her personal Shangri-La.

Kailash Manasarovar

Situated in the south-western part of Tibet bordering the Kumaon hills and Nepal, is Mount Kailash, home of Lord Shiva and lapping at its foothills are the turquoise blue, calm waters of Lake Manasarovar. Kailashkhand, as the region is known, is the source of four largest rivers in Asia, Indus, Brahmaputra, Karnali and Sutlej.

We take "parikarma" (circumambulation) of Manasarovar by coach and of Mt. Kailash on foot. Hindus believe that a ritual bath in the sacred Manasarovar delivers a pilgrim to Brahma's paradise, a drink of its waters relinquishes the sins of hundred life times and a single circumambulation (Kora) of Mt. Kailash wipes out the sins of a lifetime.

It is indeed a rare opportunity and privilege for all of those devotees who have been dreaming to be close to the home of the Gods in this world.
